

We now live in a world working to controlled media and LPFM is one small step to prevent the complete takeover of the public airways by generally unscrupulous corporations. Take Sterling for example of a communications corporation that is blind to public welfare.